In the House 120 members were present. The Speaker announced the first business in order to be the swearing in of new members. The Kentucky Delegates presented their credentials. Schenck arose to a question of privilege, and objected to the administration of the oath to J. D. Young and presented a protest signed by Samuel McKee, a former member of the House on the general grounds of Young's disloyalty. He desired the protest referred to the Committee on Elections.
Logan offered a substitute saying that whereas there were good reasons for believing that at the January election loyal voters in the several Districts of the State were overawed and prevented from an expression of their choice at the polls, and the elections were carried by the votes of the disloyal men, as was well known to several Representatives of Kentucky, therefore,
Resolved, That the credentials of all the Kentucky members be referred to the Committee on Elections, to report as soon as practicable; and until the report of said Committee, none of said members be allowed to take the seats of office.
Eldridge rose to a point of order and reminded the speaker that when he undertook to make the same point against Stokes of Tennessee in the thirty-ninth Congress, the Speaker ruled that the proceedings should not be interrupted for any such purpose. He insisted upon the same ruling now.
The Speaker corrected Eldridge and said he had ruled according to common usage, but the House must determine what action should be taken when a member presented himself and when objection was made to taking the oath the House had a right to refer the credentials to a committee.
A lengthy discussion ensued. Brooks said the objection of disloyalty might apply to members from Illinois as well as Kentucky. Some had made the charge of rebel sympathy against Logan before the war.
Logan was about to reply, when Brooks said he made no accusation against him personally.
Logan's resolution was finally adopted after an amendment admitting Adams of the Seventh District.
The credentials of the others were referred to the Committee.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 10, 1867

The President and Gen Sheridan.

Gen. Sheridan has long been the great radical incubus upon the political stomachs of President Johnson and his unreconstructed rebel friends in Louisiana It will be remembered that Gen. Sheridan came near giving mortal offence to the Academy by the course he took in relation to the riots of last July, and that, when the military commanders of departments were to be appointed, Johnson was very averse to giving Sheridan any department command at all, and only yielded to the united opinions of General Grant and the members of the Cabinet. The Cabinet fear ed the popularity of Sheridan with loyal people and that his displacement would be understood as too plain an endorsement of the July rioters General Grant thought Sheridan the right man in the right place, and would hear to nothing else than his retention. The President weakened under these combined influences so far as to make Gen. Sheridan the commandant of the Louisiana Department; but he evidently resolved there and then to never cease pursuing him till he should be rid of him.

Since that time, upon the occasion of every interference of General Sheridan with turbulent and disloyal schemists of Louisiana, rumors have emanated from Washington that the President was considering the proposition of his removal. The men appointed by the President under the Reconstruction act, to office in Sheridan's Department have been almost invariably those who either had, or were likely to, come in collision with General Sheridan's administration. A quarrel seems to have been persistently sought, out of which should grow cause for his removal. The displacement of Abell, Herron and Monroe, scarcely afforded sufficient grounds, because they had been too clearly the procurers and chief di r ctors of the riots of July, 1866. The removal of Governor Wells, however, on the 8th of June last, was thought to be the long sought opportunity Immediately the President directed his Sancho Panza Attorney General to make him out an opinion which should show that Gen. Sheridan had acted in excess of his authority and in violation of the civil law. Sancho at once obeyed, and delivered himself of his master's opinion that the Reconstruction act gives military commanders no authority to remove State officials and that no office s can be appointed by military commandants. He then specified some instances where Generals had exceeded their authority and added, "the President must see that they execute their duties according to law;" that is to say, if Generals do not conform to law as Don Quixote and Sancho Panza understand it, reading it through glasses furnished by their Louisiana friends, it is the duty of the President to remove them Attorney-General Sancho Stansbury, would not, however, wreck his legal standing by denying that military commanders have power under the Reconstruction act, when they may deem it necessary, to take the administration of the law into their own hands; but he doubted the constitutionality of the provision, and fortified himself by citations of opinions given by a minority of the Supreme Court.

Since the delivery of this opinion, the telegraph tells us there has been a general revival of rebel sentiment throughout the South, and that all sorts of officers are now defying the military authority Ex-Governor Wells, drawing inspiration from Washington, is preparing to declare himself the Governor of Louisiana and that Gov. Flanders is an usurper. The dispatches of a day or two since inform us that the city Comptroller of New Orleans refuses to pay salaries to municipal officers appointed by Governor Flanders. This action, too, is based upon opinions held at Washington. It is very clear that a strong desire exists at Washington to make up a case to justify the removal of Sheridan, though the President has not yet mustered courage enough to affix his signature to the order. Stanton and Grant, at least, stand, in the way. It is a hazardous deed and the President has not yet nerve enough to do it. Sometimes men, when they have almost resolved to commit a crime, throw themselves into haunts of bad men and steep themselves with inflaming drinks, to blunt their sensibilities, and develop the brutal in their natures; the deed is then easier done. So Johnson may have been only waiting till, by intercourse with the rebels whom he would meet in swinging round his Southern circle, he might get demoralized enough to again defy the loyal sentiment of the country and then to ply the official guillotine upon the neck of Gen. Sheridan. While thus screwing his courage up, Johnson has done exactly what the rebels at New Orleans feared he would do—delayed action in the matter till the meeting of Congress. Now, with the supplementary reconstruction bills and the impeachment question pending over him, it is doubtful whether he has not waited long enough to render the removal too impolitic for even Johnson and Sancho Panza Stansbury to undertake it.

No Compromise in Reconstruction.

If we may judge from the first day's proceedings in the Senate, what disposition the remainder of the session will show, we may conclude now that the Fortieth Congress will not stop much to consider compromises in the work of reconstruction. The President has manifested a disposition all along to thwart the Congressional reconstruction plan, by the appointment of such officers as would make the plan simply impracticable by failure or refusal to carry out the provisions of law. Loyal men were appointed as military Commanders of Departments, but in almost every instance an entirely different sort of men have been appointed or elected to civil offices. The Reconstruction act passed at the last session of Congress left its own execution enough in the power of the President to enable him to practically cripple if not to defeat it. The appointments to office were in his hands and he resumed to regulate the manner of executing the registration provisions. These powers were left him by the magnanimity of Congress. It was supposed he was not yet so far lost to all sense of his obligations as the executive of the Congressional will, as to prostitute the law to those purposes against which Congress was expressly providing. Congress was mistaken and as the result of its mistake, it has again convened This time it will probably go to the bed rock and make it as sure as human calculation can make anything, that its will shall be respected and obeyed.

Senator Wilson's supplementary reconstruction bill probably foreshadows substantially what will be done. The military commanders will have the power to remove such civil officers within their Departments, as prostitute their powers to the buisnes of obstructing the proper execution of the laws, and to appoint loyal and law abiding men in their places; and they will have such charge of the registration of voters and the boards of registration will have such powers, as will defeat the schemes of disloyal men. Congress ought to do this or something equivalent to it. Loyal men preserved the government and none but loyal men should be permitted to govern it. The efforts of Andrew Johnson and the bad men by whom he is now surrounded, to compromise away the fruits of the late victory over rebels and rebel heresies, should be most effectually thwarted. Compromises with principles were always mischievous. The several compromises on the slavery question, because they ignored the fundamental principles of republicanism—freedom, and equality of civil rights—only served to breed mischief Together with the heresy of states rights as taught in Democratic schools, and the ambition of wicked men, they culminated in a terrible war, whose influences will be felt for years, through heavy taxes and stagnation of business. Congress now has it in its power to reconstruct the government in such a way that there shall be no vitally antagonistic principles involved. If we are not mistaken, it is in the proper temper to do it.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO JULY 6.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON July 5.—In the House, the Speaker announced as the Committee of Reconstruction, Stevens, Boutwell Bingham, Farnsworth, Hubbard, Nye, Seaman, Paine, Ilke and Brooks

Maudeo presented a remonstrance of Green N. Adams against the admission of a Representative from the Seventh District of Kentucky

The Speaker presented a communication from the Governor of New Mexico stating, that he had appointed Simon Wolfe Agent of the Territory to represent its interest in the House He asked to be admitted to a seat and to draw pay and mileage

Dawes moved its reference to the Committee on Elections

Schenck opposed the reference, as it may seem to imply misconduct in the exercise of an unprecedented and unconstitutional act on the part of the Government.

Dawes agreed that the action was unconstitutional and unprecedented He wished the subject referred so that the committee might have an opportunity to present a report to prevent such an attempt in the future After further debate the communication in question was laid on the table

Farnsworth, from the Joint Committee reported that the President had no communication to make to Congress at the present time.

Paine, Garfield and Kelly presented papers referring to several contested election cases in Kentucky They were referred to the Committee on Elections On motion of Garfield, all contestants were admitted to seats on the floor

Paine moved a suspension of the rules to introduce a joint resolution, tendering the thanks of Congress to Gen. Sheridan for the able and faithful performance of his duties as Commander of the District of Louisiana The rules were suspended and the resolution passed Ayes 110; noes, 18

Phelps presented a communication from Jas. J Stewart, who contested Phelps seat at last session of Congress, stating that he found the testimony insufficient and that he withdrew the contest

Marshall presented the protests of Grover, Jones and Brice, of the fifth sixth and seventh districts of Kentucky against the action of the House, asserting that they were legally elected, and that their seats are not contested, and no allegation can be made against their loyalty. The action of the House was in direct violation of law and a precedent subversive of the rights of the State of Kentucky, themselves and their constituents

After some personal debate the protest was referred to the Committee on Elections

Dawes stated, as a member of that committee, that if nothing was proven against the qualifications of the Kentucky members, it would report back the credentials to the House

A joint resolution was passed tendering thanks to Sickles, Pope and Schofield

Schenk offered a resolution referring to Mexico, and endorsing the execution of Maximilian

Wood denounced the act as barbarous and the resolution as disgraceful

The House refused to suspend the rules and receive the resolution

Schenck offered a resolution of thanks to Patrolman V. Nasby and Attorney General Stanbery as exponents of the President's policy [Laughter]

Pending the question on the resolution the House adjourned over to Monday.

WASHINGTON, July 5 —In the Senate, Edwards introduced an explanatory reconstruction bill, which was ordered printed It provides a registry to ascertain whether an applicant is entitled to registry under the law. The oath is not to be conclusive on such questions; the evidence of witnesses is to be taken in regard to an applicant's qualifications

Anthony offered the following

Resolved, That the business of this session be confined removing obstructions which have been or are likely to be placed in the way of a fair execution of the acts of reconstruction before adopted by Congress, and that further legislation at this session on the subject of reconstruction or other subjects is not expedient.

Sumner offered a substitute, that the Senate proceed with the public business requiring attention without undertaking to limit action of Congress to any special subject. Sumner spoke at length, and said the Indian difficulties required attention; also, the treaties with Russia and South America; and he wanted the universal suffrage bill to protect the freedmen of Maryland and Kentucky and to carry equal rights in all the States

Tipton wanted to offer a provision for Indian scalps and authorize the formation of volunteer forces on the frontier.

Wilson considered such language unfit to be used in a christian country, and after further debate Summer's substitute was adopted. Also an amendment including such legislation as may be necessary to preserve peace on the western frontier. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 25 against 2. The Senate adjourned till Monday.

The Herald's Washington special dispatch says one of the chief points in Surratt's defence will be the proof of the contents of Booth's letter to the editor of the Intelligencer, mentioned in his diary but never made public

Matthews, an actor of this city, testified before the Judiciary Committee, yesterday, that Booth handed him the letter on the morning of the assassination, requesting him to leave it next morning at the Intelligencer office in the event of any extraordinary occurrence The night after the assassination, Matthews opened the letter which contained a statement signed by Booth, Payne, Atzerodt and Herold, to the effect that they had tried all in their power to abduct the President but failing they had resolved to sacrifice their lives for the welfare of the country and remove by death the President whom they considered the cause of all its woes Surratt's name was not signed to the letter. The defence use this as a proof that he had no instrumentality in the President's assassination.

The Times' special dispatch says the report of the majority of the Judiciary Committee has been procured in favor of impeachment by the defection of Woodbridge.

He would show an agreement between the conspirators to which the name of neither Mrs Surratt or John Surratt was signed.

INTERESTING TRADITION.—The following has been preserved in the secret drawer for sometime, and it is time an airing was given to its details. To those who are now to Oregon, it will prove interesting, and to those old settlers who are ignorant of the tradition, it will be an important acquisition to their early knowledge. In olden times on the North Pacific coast there was a story often told among the early settlers of Oregon, Washington Territory and Vancouver's Island, that some ancient Indian aborigines of Washington Territory had paddled their way coastwise in a canoe as far as Portland, in Oregon, up through the ugly Columbia river, and that in progress forward they met with, on the banks of the river, partially embodied in the mud the sunwashed broken remains of a Chinese junk. This astonished the Indians, who regarded themselves the sole lords of creation, while it afterward excited the curiosity and spirit of inquiry of such few white men as were then in those distant and comparatively unknown regions of the earth. The finding of the Chinese junk is still a matter of tradition among the Indian tribes who inhabit those regions, and is freely spoken of by the American and European population, and the conclusion come to is that at some far off period of the world's existence the Chinese—always an enterprising people—sent an expedition northwise, which became a prey to pitiless storms that are so often to be encountered in the Columbia river. Certain it is, at all events, that the junk was found in the Columbia, and it is only reasonable to conclude that it came from China. The world, since those days, has advanced far in the march of civilization, and from little Chinese junks, Hyda Indian canoes and small craft, we have now with the aid of science and engineering skill, vessels of ponderous magnitude.

DEPARTURE OF THE AJAX.—The steamer Ajax departed from this port for San Francisco last evening, a quarter before nine o'clock. She took a large number of passengers and freight. The following are the names of the passengers berthed for the trip: Geo S Steele, U S A, Col Williamson, U S A, Lt. S E. Chamberlain, U S A, Charles Hubland wife, N Fish, wife and son, Mrs. Sexton, Mrs Wythe, H W Stevens, J Jackman, F Thane, Mr Dunmire, Miss Dunmire, Lee Mow, Lyman Fish, Miss B Wallace, Mrs W Brower, Mrs A Flanders and child, H H Hartley, wife and child, W H Hodge, E Ross Fike, H G Blake, A Dunn, A Mullett, S S Skene, E D Cohn, H W Johnson, Capt. J S Whinton, M Keith, Mrs. Donnelly, P. H Cummings, B O Severance, Mrs. H F Stevens, Mrs. E. Burrows, A H Vail, C L Fisher, Jr. Mr. Mack, O. T. Stroh, G. Tschinsky, A. Packard, Miss R Sanchez, F M Fowler, Owen Bell, G B Draper, A Davidson, Geo Allman, H A Blogfield (W. F & Co.'s Messenger) and 36 in the steerage.

The following is the freight taken by the Ajax: 12,870 quarters of flour, 327 bales of wool, 1,500 hides, 40 half barrels of dried apples, 110 cases of tacks, 183 gunnies of bacon, 400 sacks of wheat, 37 barrels of salmon, 35 half barrels of salmon, 4 cases of furs, 9 bales of furs, 50 cases of lard, 10 rolls of leather, 5 cases of wine, 3 kegs of lard, 8 bales of sacks, 11 empty ale packages, 3 hogsheads of wines, 10 bundles of iron, 4 kegs of nails, 15 boxes of eggs, 27 boxes of cherries, 27 cases of merchandise, 1 bales of merchandise, 7 packages of merchandise, 30 barrels of bandings, 9.2 bundles of staves.

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, JUDGE.—The following are the proceedings of the Circuit Court of yesterday:

State vs. Wm. Smith—Indicted for selling spirituous liquor to an Indian; pleaded guilty, and was fined $50 and costs.

State vs. Doctor Hope—Indicted for having in his possession counterfeit coins; defendant discharged and indictment dismissed on motion of the District Attorney, as that there was no probability of a conviction based upon the testimony.

State vs. George Taylor—Indicted for an assault, being armed with a dangerous weapon—trial by jury; verdict, not guilty, and defendant discharged.

State vs. George Bennett—Indicted for larceny; verdict of jury, guilty as charged in the indictment, and value of property assessed at $40.

John E. Officer vs Sarah E. Officer—suit for divorce; default entered of defendant.

INDIAN PROSECUTIONS.—We are more astonished than ever at the production of the Web foot country. Mr. Seth Leadling left yesterday with us a specimen of pile plant of the Chinook Wormwith species, measuring in length from root to tip of leaf, three and a half feet. This specimen is but little less in size than that we noticed on X-day morning, and, so far as we can judge before an actual trial, that it is just as tender. Three extraordinary vegetable productions remind us that we are "way back yander," before our star had taken its way westward. We once witnessed a radish, "gone to seed," the top of which had become perfectly dry, and on it sat a wit, a child seven or eight years old climbed, so that the feet of the climber were at least ten or twelve inches from the ground, while its hands held to the branches. This is no fiction, but the truth; we saw it with our own eyes and know whereof we speak.

CARTER AND HAYDEN MILL.—Mr. Carter informs us that as soon as high water shall cease to be, he and Mr. Hayden will resume work on the new mill, located above their present mill on the river. The Oregon Iron Works had to construct all their machinery, but the burning of the Works put a quietus on that arrangement. Mr. C informs us that they should procure all the necessary machinery at home and not send to San Francisco or any where else, but would support home manufactures—a principle which we like to see exhibited. There will be attached to the mill a jail and tub factory, the peculiar machinery for which is now on the way, via Cape Horn, for Portland.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In this court yesterday, Indian Jack having been picked up drunk, was forced to pay the penalty of his disregard for propriety, by spending ten days in the house kept by Marshall Hoyt. When he comes out it is doubtful if he is any better than when incarcerated.

Florence Donahue for assaulting Mr. Phillips, was honorably discharged.

George Kressman became angry with Mr Weil, an attorney at Goldsmith Bros., and applied a cutting epithet, for which the Recorder charged him $40 in United States gold coin and costs.

JOHN S. WHITE.—We some time since stated that Mr. White had gone to the Umatilla Reservation to engage in trade; but now we know what we did not know before. Mr. W. has purchased the trading house and stock of the claimbs of John D. Crawford, a brother of Hon. Jesse Crawford of Portland. He has a permit from the Indian Agent, and has embarked in a profitable business. The location of the trading house is at the foot of the Blue Mountains, near the terminus of the Meacham road. John D. Crawford, Esq., arrived here yesterday en route for his farm near Buttesville, where he contemplates remaining.

DR. DAVENPORT.—The trial of Dr Davenport in the United States District Court, was closed yesterday evening about five o'clock, after occupying two days' time. The jury were out three or four hours and brought in a verdict of not guilty. This case was ably prosecuted by ex-Governor Gibbs, and was ably defended by Messrs. Logan, Page and Trimble. The arguments pro and con, as well as the charge of the Court, were searching, complete and learned; the strategy of the counsel was ingenious, and all the strong points were displayed by the respective attorneys, and the weak ones were covered up.

THE GRANT.—Yesterday on the return trip from Astoria, the U. S. Grant again had the misfortune to break her cross-head, near Walker's Island, six miles below Rainier. The Ranger towed her up to Galloway's two miles above Rainier, and then left her to come up with an improvised cross-head in the place of the one broken. The Ranger also brought up the Grant's passengers. Surely if Capt. Kerns were not an enterprising and industrious man, his misfortunes would tend to discourage him, but by constant perseverance he will "right up" and weather the storm.

TREASURE FOR BELOW.—The Ajax took down treasure last evening to the amount of $350,000 for Wells, Fargo & Co., of which amount, Ladd & Tilton shipped $40,000, and Goldsmith Bros. $15,000. The amount taken by private hands it is impossible to form an estimate. The reader can judge as well as ourselves. This is the largest shipment of treasure made the present year. Mr. Bridge informs us that the amount of bullion sent below this trip will compare favorably with shipments made in previous years in the same month.

TRANSFERRED.—His Honor, Judge Shattuck, intimated that owing to his relation to the parties in the matter of the petition of William Brown (colored) for a writ of mandamus, directed to the School Directors of School District No. 1, and O. S. Frambes, principal teacher of the school of said District, to show cause why the children of said Brown should not be received into said school, that he would transfer the case to Judge Dolph's District. Judge Shattuck is, we believe, School Director.

SHERIFF DRIVE.—Yesterday afternoon a man plumb full of whiskey, toppled over on Couch & Flanders' wharf. Being too drunk to navigate, he concluded to sleep. While enjoying his siesta, it became necessary to unfound a lot of wood immediately in the vicinity of where the man lay. A large bale of the commodity was tipped over upon his head, and he, sleepy drunk never exhibited any signs of consciousness, but remained perfectly undisturbed by the sudden "heft" placed upon his pelt.

ATTACHED.—Yesterday evening as the Ajax was about to leave, Deputy Sheriff Ward laid an attachment on three coaches, as the property of John Allman, who is in Montana, at the suit of E. F. Moody & Co. These coaches were but a short time since shipped from San Francisco, and were about to be shipped back again when Mr Ward officiated that they should remain. The officer, when he made the levy, was met by a bill of sale in the hands of another man, from Allman.

TYPES.—Compositors on daily newspapers are the least likely to make convenient jurors, from the fact that they ask the least at liberty to take the time required by the Court, for their attendance. Judge Shattuck did wisely in excusing, yesterday, one of our compositors from serving as a juror, from the fact that a daily newspaper must issue at its regular time, and substitutes are not easily to be had, to replace the deficiency in the corps of printers.

ACCIDENT.—John Curry, while driving a frolicsome young horse, yesterday, in a sulky, received a severe kick. The horse became frightened and fired away with his heels, almost throwing cold iron. Being newly shod, the rim of the shoe was quite sharp, and which, striking his foot directly under his ankle, cut the boot like a knife, inflicting a very severe wound, probably fracturing some of the smaller bones.

THE PALESTINIAN.—We learned yesterday, and unlearned, and learned again, without in the end being at all certain, that Capt. Flavel contemplated fitting up this fine vessel for a voyage to Australia, with a cargo of Oregon flour. Before departing from this port the commander will be necessitated to hire five or six men.

SCHOOL LANDS.—On Friday next, at 10 o'clock A. M., a public sale will be held in this city of the school lands of the county. We suppose the sale will be had at the Court House.

COMBINATION.—In regard to a combination between the steamship and sailing vessels plying between this port and San Francisco, we ascertained from a not altogether reliable source that such was the case as regards the vessels in the ownership of Mr Connor and Mr Richardson, of San Francisco, and that those were the only vessel owners who would consent to such an arrangement.

PRODUCTIVE SUBPŒNA.—Sheriff Stitzel served subpœnas on the drivers of four drays and one truck yesterday to give evidence in the case of the State vs G W Taylor. The witnesses all appeared at the Court House with their various conveyances, and we thought surely Sheriff Stitzel had been apprehended, and had engaged the services of these men to move him and his away.

ACCIDENT.—Policeman Saunders met with a severe accident on the night the Oregon Iron Works were destroyed. Yesterday, was the first day he has been able to be on the street, having injured his foot. Wm. Blake has been doing duty on the police force, during his confinement. Mr. S will be able to resume his place in a day or two.

IN TOWN.—W. Carey Johnson, Esq., of Oregon City, and District Attorney Sullivan of Judge Boise's District, are in attendance at Judge Shattuck's Court.

SAILED.—The Oriflamme sailed for Portland at 10 o'clock A. M., on the 8th inst., and may be expected to arrive on Thursday evening.

PRODUCE.—The Senator brought down yesterday the following freight: 77 bales wool, 6 boxes cherries, 220 sacks flour.

BASE BALL.—The Wide Awakes play this afternoon at half-past 5 o'clock, sharp.

BANKRUPTS.—The reason why so many men become bankrupt, is because they don't recognize in their purchases—for instance should they go to Harmon Bros and purchase all their clothing, coarse, fine and otherwise they would save some money and credit—Prices, A No 1 suits, $13 to $20, white shirts, $1 50 to $2 50, cassimere pants, $5 00 to 20 25, rubber ties, 50 cents.

PERFECTLY ENRAPTURING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. SHANAHAN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO.—BOISE CITY, I T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. Bidwell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Sight and Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The less stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Dappjpe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Tone of Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. The Key Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instruments or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $500. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

CHOLERA.
MR. PERRY DAVIS:—The benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy, the Pain Killer, induces me to pen a word in its praise. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, severe Chills, Weariness, common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Toothache, etc, THERE IS NOTHING BETTER THAN THE PAIN KILLER. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonful, taken at thirty minutes interval, in a wine glass full of hot water. I am confident, through the blessing of God, it saved me from the cholera in the summer of 1849. Travelling amid heat, dust, toil, change of diet, and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful curing the worse case in an hour, or, at the most, half a day. I have heard of many cases of Dysentery being cured by its use. Put in the teeth, it will stop the toothache. Gratitude, and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor.

FOR NON-RETENTION or INCONTINENCE of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation, or ulceration of the bladder, or kidneys, diseases of the prostrate glands, stone in the bladder, calculus, gravel or brick dust deposits, and all diseases of the bladder, kidneys and tropical swellings, USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

OREGONIANS should test the merits of DR HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Try it. Be not put off with substitutes offered by interested parties. Call for and obtain PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL. Price, 50 cents and $1 00 per bottle. For sale by all Dealers in Medicines. A. McBOYLE & CO.,

STEAM ACROSS THE CONTINENT

PROGRESS OF THE WORK ON THE PACIFIC RAILWAY—WHAT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED AND WHAT IS EXPECTED.

From an elaborate article in the Union Pacific Railroad in the New York Times of May 28th, we extract the following

THE STATUS OF THE WORK

The work on the line has been pushed forward with wonderful rapidity and energy—the process of laying the track proceeding at the rate of nearly two miles a day This part of the work has been thoroughly systemized under the direction of Gen Casement By his orders the cars that bring up materials to the front are loaded with the utmost precision, each carrying a certain number of rails all of the same length and the exact number of chairs and spikes required to lay them These are sent out to the work and the "boarding cars," in which the workmen live having been pushed as far as possible toward the end of the track, the materials are thrown on behind them and the boarding cars shoved back and the small cars used in laying the rails come up to the piles of new material The process of laying the track is thus described by an eye witness

"A small car having been loaded in the same manner and with the same precision as the large had been, was run forward to the end of the track by horse power. A couple of feet from the ends of the rails already down, chocks were placed under the wheels, stopping the car at once Before it had well stopped a dozen men grasped a rail on each side, ran it beyond the car, laid it down in its chairs, gauged it, and ere its clang in falling had ceased to reverberate, the car was run over it and another pair of rails drawn out This process was continued as rapidly as a man would walk Behind the car followed a man dropping spikes, another setting the ties well under the ends of the rails, and thirty or forty others driving in the spikes and stamping the earth under the ties. The moment that one car was emptied of its iron, a number of men seized it and threw it into the ditch, and the second followed in with its load"

In this manner the work is completed with the most astonishing rapidity, and, at the same time, in the most thorough and substantial manner Trains move over the road at high rates of speed, without any jarring. The grading parties keep about a hundred miles in advance of the track layers, so that no delays are likely to occur, and the work is pushed forward as rapidly as the material can be brought up. On the first of last January the road was finished for 305 miles west from Omaha, and fully equipped with locomotives, rolling stock, repair shops, depots, stations telegraphic lines, etc; and the company have on hand ties, iron and other material in sufficient quantities to complete the road to the base of the Rocky Mountains, or 517 miles from Omaha, by the last of next September. Arrangements are also made for grading in advance the heavier portions of the line in the Rocky Mountain section, so that the track laying will probably proceed in that difficult region nearly or quite as expeditiously as on the more level portions of the line. As the Central Pacific Railroad Company, at the California end of the route, are prosecuting their portion of the work with great vigor and success, it is expected that the whole line from New York to San Francisco will be completed and open to traffic and travel before the end of the year 1876.

THE WESTERN DIVISION.

The western or California half of this great main line of communication which is under construction by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, forms a line to which all others are more or less tributary. It occupies the most available passage across the Sierra Nevada, and is, therefore, the natural outlet from California to the East. It has no competition with water transportation, and parallel rivalry is hopelessly shut off by natural obstacles. Few roads were ever begun with the same degree of favor, independence and business prospects. The present western terminus of this road is at Sacramento—the head of tide water navigation in California,—and at the close of 1868 94 miles were built, equipped, in running order, and earning a handsome revenue. Nearly the whole of the distance was occupied in making an ascent of nearly 6,000 feet, out of the total 7,042 feet elevation at which the Sierra Nevada range is crossed. Since then an additional 60 miles has been so far prepared as to leave no doubt as to the practicability of the whole mountain passage at all seasons of the year. A tunnel at the summit, now nearly cut through, temporarily bars the advance. During the present summer, the contractors in charge expect to reach the California boundary, in the vicinity of the Washoe region, whose mines yield more silver annually than the rest of the world, which will add to its already large business By the close of the year, more than 200 miles will be completed, and by July, 1868, the Big Bend of the Humboldt river will be reached, which is the nearest and most available route to the rich mines of Idaho and Montana, whose supplies are drawn from the Pacific coast.

The Central Pacific Company has been fortunate in securing subsidies paid for the construction of the road Although the undertaking is one most gently over begun in the country, imperatively demanded by the present and future local traffic between California and Nevada, the wagon freight for which amounts to $13,000,000 in a single year. From the first, therefore, the road was a paying success, even in the incomplete stages. In the two years, 1865 and 1866, when it had thirty-one miles to its beginning, to ninety-four miles at the close, stretching up the mountain side, it was enabled to earn nearly $1,000,000 in gold over and above its operating current expenses, of which sum three-quarters ($708,764) were applicable to the purposes of further construction after the payment of its annual interest account.

A peculiarity of this organization is its exemption from risks and responsibilities which commonly beset railroad enterprises. First, it is fostered by the Government, which grants its credit to nearly half the amount required to build the road; and which is satisfied to look mainly to transportation service on very liberal terms, together with a small percentage of the future earnings for the repayment. Second, the Corporation, State and municipal, of California have aided it by subscriptions to its capital stock, by positive donations of bonds and valuable city property, and by assuming the annual interest payment on part of the Company's bonds. It appears that of the $29,000,000 available for the construction of the first section of 150 miles, embracing the whole mountain division, the General Government will have furnished over $7,000,000; capital stock, net earnings, land sales, etc., bearing no interest, will have furnished about $5,000,000, the City of San Francisco, $400,000 in bonds, and the City of Sacramento, $.100,000 in necessary site for depots, etc The remainder is made up of first mortgage bonds, $7,000,000, convertible bonds, $1,500,000, State aid bonds, interest paid by California, $1,500,000. There are beside, 2,000,000 of acres of unsold lands, many of them of great value, among the resources not immediately available.

According to recent estimates, this, by far the most expensive division of the line, will have cost, including a very liberal equipment, about $18,000,000, which would leave a reserve of $5,000,000 to be applied to the construction of the remaining distance, in addition to the Government subsidy of $52,000 per mile and first mortgage bonds to the same amount, in addition to the 12,800 acres per mile The company by this showing, therefore, has an exceedingly light annual interest charge, a lucrative and growing business with which to meet its engagements as they mature, and a reliable fund out of which to prosecute their work to completion. It is believed that much of the distance east of the mountains can be built for $50,000 per mile. As the Government will have invested $25,000,000 in this company's road, for which it seeks no immediate or ordinary repayment, and which is subordinate to the lien of the first mortgage bonds, there can be no doubt that private capital will be forthcoming upon so stable a security far beyond the requirements of the company to build a road within the time specified. The affairs of the road are in a very satisfactory condition It has iron enough on hand for 300 miles, and its obligations are all expressed in the items of capital and bonded debt.

MEANS OF CONSTRUCTION

The means provided by the Government to ensure the speedy construction of the road it had authorized and the resources of the company afford ample guarantees of the speedy completion of this noble work. The Government grants are the following

1 The Rights of Way and Material.—These are valuable concessions With few exceptions of individual grants every railroad, even in the new est country, has had to pay for the rights of way and material, but the Union Pacific Railroad Company started with the grant of these from the Government over the entire line of the company's work.

2 The Grant of Money.—The Government, as already stated, grants, in 6 per cent bonds, $16 000 per mile for the whole road and its auxiliaries constructed under the Act of July, 1862 but in two cases it makes an extraordinary advance in the most mountainous and difficult part of the road, for 150 miles westward from the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, the grant of bonds is trebled making $48 000 per mile for 150 miles From the termination of this section to the California line (assumed from the surveys and estimates to be 898 miles,) the grant is doubled making $32 000 per mile The total amount of bonds from the initial point at Omaha to the western base of the Nevada range (assumed to be 1 ,0 miles) is $44,208 000 or an average grant of $28 130 per mile. These bonds are issued on the completion of each section of 20 miles after the Commissioners appointed by the President of the United States have certified that it is thoroughly built and supplied with all the equipments of a first class railroad The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States Treasury, and the Government retains as a sinking fund to be applied to the repayment of principal and interest, one half the regular charges made against it by the company for transportation These bonds, which are a second mortgage are not due for 30 years, and it is not improbable that by the end of this period the value of the services rendered to the Government will have created a sinking fund that will retire these bonds altogether

3 The First Mortgage Bonds.—The Government permits the Company to issue its own mortgage bonds at the same time, and on the same terms and for the same amount and, by special act of Congress, these bonds are constituted a first mortgage on the entire line and property of the road, being a lien prior to all claims of the Government

4 The Land Grant.—The Government grants to the Company every alternate section of land for 20 miles on each side of the road, or 12 800 acres per mile, making the whole amount over 20 000, 000 of acres Much of this land, especially in the Valley of the Great Platte River, is a rich alluvium, and is considered equal to any in the world for agricultural purposes Hon E D. Mansfield the Commissioner of Statistics for the State of Ohio estimates that at least 3 000 000 acres will be available to the Company within a moderate length of time, and that it is far within bounds to estimate this entire grant at $1 50 an acre, of $30,000,000 The Illinois Central has realized more than four times this sum from a similar grant

BUSINESS CAPABILITIES AND PROSPECTS.

No argument is necessary to show that the traffic over the only line of railway connecting the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and passing through the richest agricultural and mining regions of the country, must be enormous and constantly on the increase as the resources of those regions are developed and the population increases Already according to a statement put forth by the Company, the interest on the bonds is more than provided for by the net earnings of the various sections of the road as they are completed On the 305 miles on which the cars are now running west from Omaha, the receipts for the first two weeks in May were $113 000, and as the road is extended westwards the great mining centres, the business in freight and passengers constantly increases, and as there can be no competition from rival roads, the Company has full power to charge remunerative prices The prices of freight by teams from the Missouri river was formerly 25 cents a pound, or $500 per ton

There can be no question that the annual product of the precious metals in the Pacific States which is now estimated at $100,000,000 per annum, will be vastly increased as soon as the railroad opens an easy and inexpensive pathway to the golden regions of the Rocky Mountains Now, the difficulties and cost of communication are so great that none but the very richest veins can be worked, but with cheap transportation hundreds of thousands of hardy miners will successfully develop other mines, that, with less costly working, will be even more profitable than the average of those now in operation, and the business of this constantly increasing mining interest must pass over this road.

The number of passengers by sea, between the Atlantic ports and San Francisco, amounts to more than 50 000 persons annually. Taking into account the greater ease, security and rapidity of railroad communication, it may be safely assumed that at least an equal number of people pre for the overland route, and these, reckoned at $150 each, (about one half the steamer price) would produce a revenue of $7,500,000 But, taking the statistics of the present overland travel, it would be safe to double this estimate and taking into account the rapid increase of the population of the Pacific coast, and the immense freighting and express business that must pass over this line, there is every reason to believe that the Union Pacific Railroad will be one of the most profitable, as it is the most colossal work of the age

Within three years, therefore, the iron road will stretch in a continuous and unbroken line from New York to San Francisco, uniting the Atlantic to the Pacific States with bands that cannot be severed. All along its route we shall see villages and cities starting up, and the waste but fertile regions of the far West filling with an enterprising population, carrying with it the wealth, the arts and refinements of the highest civilization, and over the long line a perpetual and ever-increasing stream of travel will thenceforward pass and repass without interruption, as it now passes up and down the Mississippi.

FROM IDAHO

The World of the 3d contains the following news.

NEW DIGGINGS DISCOVERED

From Mr. J. M. Jones, who lives near Lamb ing's sawmill, across from here on Moore's creek, we learned yesterday that a party from Gold Hill had discovered diggings on a tributary of the North Fork of Boise river, which they call Lost river, about fourteen miles south of Gold Hill. The party prospected in all eighteen days, by running outs and in other thorough ways, and for a distance of five miles up the stream they got prospects of from five to fifteen cents to the pan One of the party showed Mr. Jones the gold. It is fine and resembles Moore's creek dust. The party who discovered the diggings have great faith in them, and have started in to regularly work claims they have taken.

RICH QUARTZ.

Mr I P Lambing, who lately purchased the Juniatta ledge and quartz mill of Mr S C Rosenbaum, has commenced crushing ore, and so far it has averaged about $110 to the ton. The richest ore has yet to be worked.

SUICIDE OF A MINER.

From Smith Barker, driver of Pinkham's Basin stage, we learn that Hugh McElroy, a miner of Granite Creek, deliberately put an end to his own life, by a pistol shot through the head, in his own cabin, while abed, on Monday night The verdict of the coroner's jury, if rightly reported to us, is a remarkable one, viz "That the deceased committed suicide in self defence."

The following items are from the Lewiston Journal of the 4th:

ROW AT PIERCE CITY—NARROW ESCAPE.

Pierce City expressman arrived Monday—reports that on the 24th June a row occurred between T Kane and John Donnelly, in which the latter was beaten severely with a pistol Kane was brought before Justice McGregor and fined $100 and costs

Geo. Moller and O Swendson made a narrow escape last week. A twenty foot bank caved and completely buried the latter, he, however, was rescued by a comrade The former had one of his legs caught and escaped by pulling it out of his boot. Delany and Carty were recovering very fast.

FIRE—INDIANS SUSPECTED

We understand that on Tuesday a fire occurred on the prairie eight miles south east of this city, where some men have been engaged in making hay, resulting in the destruction of 20 tons of hay and all the camp fixtures of the party, besides seriously burning two horses. Indians are suspected as having occasioned this fire and loss and one has been arrested and lodged in jail Word was sent to the Agency this morning, when Mr. O Neill dispatched some soldiers to take the Indian to the Fort.

FROM ELK CITY.

Elk City expressman arrived Tuesday—reports all miners doing well there. Says a few are leaving for Lombi For about three miles on the trail the snow was from one to four feet He met quite a number of Chinamen on his way down en route for that camp

WARREN'S CAMP.

The editorial correspondence of the Journal, June 30th, says

I find business here just commencing for the season Much work has been done for weeks past but not that from which money was realized It was labor to guard against the high water in mining claims Last week and the week previous, considerable gold was taken out—this week much more will be taken out The hill claims of Sanderson & Bemis situated above the reach of high water, have yielded well for four weeks past They with the labor five men have washed and cleaned up upwards of $5,000 and have the last week a washing yet to clean up Other claims are doing remarkably well

There are more men in camp than there were last year in the same month Many are here to prospect for quartz The ground has been so wet that but little has yet been done on the lands One new discovery was made last week, called the Eldorado The vein is about sixteen inches wide, and samples of the ore shown to me were rich in silver I visited the arastra of Morton & Dong to day They had another clean up from the crushing of about two tons of the Sunset ore, which yielded nearly 18 ounces of retorted amalgam

The Cariboo Sentinel, of June 17th, contains the following

MINING NEWS—WILLIAMS CREEK

Mining operations dependent on the Bed Rock Drain were at a stand, producing great depression and throwing nearly two hundred men out of employment It was hoped work would be resumed in a few days Above that but most of the claims were paying. The Davis washed up for the week 99 oz, the Auro 142 oz, the Borealis 47 ounces

CANYON CREEK

The latest accounts from this quarter are very encouraging, the arastra of the Washburne company will not be in running order before the beginning of next week The delay is occasioned by the foreman, Mr Christie having got his hand hurt Drifting has been resumed on the ledge and rock far richer than any heretofore found, is being obtained in a drift 52 feet from the surface We were shown a piece of rock yesterday by Mr B P. Anderson, said to be a fair sample of the ledge, which was literally sparkled with heavy nodules of the precious metal When the arastras are once started, and if properly managed, we expect to hear of some startling developments in this ledge

KEITAFF'S CREEK

Wright & Co, have just begun to wash and are making $12 a day to the hand Crimp company are starting to work Anglo American Co still continue drifting

SNOW SHOE CREEK.

Scott & Co are making about an ounce a day to the hand in the bed of the creek Four other companies have prospected ground above them and are preparing to work

CONKLIN'S GULCH.

STOUTS GULCH.

This gulch promises well The Alturas Co. had commenced to take big pay out of their shaft They washed up for the week 140 oz The Mucho Oro Co washed up for the week 50 oz

FROM WALLA WALLA

From the Walla Walla Statesman of the 5th inst, we clip the following items

CAMP MEETING—GREAT REVIVAL

On Thursday of last week, a camp meeting was commenced on Mill creek, about six miles from town, and continued six days. The attendance throughout the whole course of the meeting was large, and the result was the conversion of nearly every body living on the creek. In some instances whole families were brought under the Divine influence, and led to repent of their sins and join the church. The meeting was held under the direction of the United Brethren.

COLVILLE MAILS.

Postmaster Johnson informs us that the late contractor refuses to carry the mail at the figure heretofore allowed, and that as a consequence the people of Colville valley and the Big Bend country are denied all mail facilities

DWELLING HOUSE BURNED.

At an early hour on Wednesday morning, the house of Isaac Laswell, situated about a mile below town, caught fire from a defective stove pipe, and was burned to the ground The family made their escape with barely the clothes they had on, and are now camped in the neighborhood without shelter or protection. What adds to Mr Laswell's misfortune, is the fact that he has a daughter, aged about 15 years, who is prostrated by sickness, and not expected to live from one moment to another.

MILITARY EXPEDITION.

On Saturday last, the company of cavalry, lately stationed at Fort Walla Walla, took up the line of march for Washoe Ferry, where they will report to General Crook, now in command in the Indian country. The company numbered sixty-one enlisted men, commanded by Lieutenant Farce, late commanding the post Some forty civilians, in charge of trains and in the capacity of packers, accompanied the expedition, swelling the command to one hundred men. The command took out four months' supplies, and are expected to remain in the field until the rations are exhausted.

Whereabouts or Fate of the Leading Border Ruffians and Free State Men of Kansas.

[Correspondence of the Evening Post.]

BOSTON, May 5, 1867.

I met to day, Col. William A Phillips, well known as a Kansas correspondent in the days that tried men's souls, and still better known during the war as military leader of the Cherokee Nation and commander of all the troops in the Indian territory. He is now engaged in writing a history of the Indian people and territory, and their record in the rebellion; From him I have learned several interesting facts in relation to the present status and politics of the leading Free State men, as well as border ruffians, whose names were in all men's mouths before the war

FREE STATE MEN.

Governor Geary is Governor Geary still, as the Quaker vote of Pennsylvania attests.

Governor Robert J. Walker and Governor Stanton are together still. They are practising law in Washington.

Judge Johnson is also practicing law in Washington.

John Brown, four of his sons, Kagi, Cook, Stevens and Whipple, have all perished at the hands of the slave power. Of the brothers Copple, one was executed at Harpers Ferry and one was killed in Missouri by the falling of a railroad bridge, undermined by the rebels.

John Brown, Jr, is living at Put in Bay, opposite Sandusky where he is cultivating grapes. His brother Owen, who escaped from Harper's Ferry, is with him. John, Jr, was in the war for a time, but was compelled to leave the service by ill health.

Mr. Delahay, first territorial delegate from Kansas, is a judge of the United States District Court

Mr. Parrott, first member of Congress from Kansas, is practicing law in Leavenworth, and is now an ultra radical.

Mr. Conway, the second member of Congress from Kansas, is United States Consul at Marsailles.

Jim Lane committed suicide.

Gov. Robinson is a farmer near Lawrence.

Judge Lecompt is a Free State man. He is a lawyer in Leavenworth. He was a member of the Legislature last winter, and voted for Mr. Pomeroy as United States Senator.

"Jack" Henderson was a colonel in the Union army, was wounded, and is now an Indian agent in New Mexico.

Calhoun of "candle-box" notoriety, died some years since in Southern Illinois.

Judge Elmore died at Tecumseh at the beginning of the war. He was a Union man

Gov. Shannon has practiced law since, his deposition, and is now popular with the Free State people

Sheriff Walker was a lieutenant-colonel in our army, and is now keeping a livery stable in Lawrence

H. J Hunton was a captain and brevet colonel in Kansas regiments during the war, and is now a well known Washington correspondent

Sam Tappan became a colonel of a Colorado regiment, and is now in Boston

G W Brown, of the Herald of Freedom, is boring for oil down in Peoria. He had not struck it at latest dates

P B Plumb is a lawyer at Emporia, and was Speaker of the House of Representatives last winter.

Joel K Goodin is a member of the Legislature Mr Holliday is still at Topeka engaged in the real estate business

Mr Bascomb was one of the loyal Southerners from Missouri

Sam Wood is now a Judge of one of the State courts

Mr Pomeroy is a member of the United States Senate, and has a splendid mansion in Chester Park, Boston

W F M Arny is now an Indian Agent in New Mexico

"Old Col Vaughan" is still a leading journalist at Leavenworth

T Dwight Thatcher is now on the staff of the Philadelphia Telegraph

Governor Reader is dead,

Judge Schuyler is a Consul

Judge Smith is a lawyer in Lawrence

Capt Hamilton, the author of the massacre at Mercies Civiguas, was a Colonel in Texas A Kansas regiment on one occasion happened to find that they were encamped on his homestead in Alabama It was not benefitted by this discovery to any alarming extent

BORDER RUFFIANS

Gen Atchison—old Dave—is dead He died in Missouri during the war. He took no part in it, but professed to be a Union man

"General" Stringfellow—B I—the notorious champion of the border ruffians with the pen, became a Free State man and settled at the town of Atchison From a Kansas Senator I learned that he became so completely regenerated as to do honor to the memory of John Brown

The other Stringfellow—"the Doctor"—he who was Speaker of the spurious legislature, went to Virginia and turned up during the war as an aid on the staff of a rebel general who defended or garrisoned Mobile

Captain Henry Clay Pate—he who sought and found John Brown, and was duly captured by him at the "battle" of Black Jack—was killed in the same skirmish in which his leader, General Stuart of Virginia fell

Sheriff Jones is in Arizona, and is reported to have been a Union man during the war. He has always managed to keep office

Colonel "Bufford" left the State, and probably joined the Southern army

TOWNS

Leavenworth is now a city of 30,000 inhabitants, Lawrence of 8 000 or 10 000, Topeka, the Capital, 5,000, Osawatomie is a mere village Lecompton is played out, Manhattan is a thriving town, and Salina is the present termination of the Pacific Railroad

THE POPULATION OF KANSAS

Is estimated to be about 250,000 The colored population is small The State is very prosperous

Alabama is in a healthy financial condition She is rapidly discharging her State debts, and liquidating the accumulated interest upon her foreign bonds, the payment of which was almost entirely suspended during the rebellion

A "colored belle," accompanied by a gorgeous specimen of a "man and brother," passing Jay no's mansion, remarked, 'That's a fine house" 'That's so,' said he "it reminds me of my poor father's—it's no different."

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends, alike not to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest this city, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from San Francisco or other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Semina Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an extent unthought of, or believed, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks
